AND

IMPORTANT LIVING QUESTIONS.

Price 75 cents.

By E. H. DEWART, D.D.

~~I have ready for publication, as soon as I can arrange with a publisher, a volume of Essays, most of which have appeared in Reviews or Magazines in recent years.~~

As nearly every one of these articles discusses an author or subject of special living interest to the Christian public, I have been led to believe that their publication in book-form would do good in these times of hazy theorizing and mental unrest. I subjoin a list of the chief topics in the work, with a brief characterization of each Essay:

Robertson, of Brighton.

A study of Frederick W. Robertson as a man, a preacher, and a religious teacher; with a brief outline of his life. An undying interest gathers around this gifted preacher.

James Arminius, the great Dutch Theologian.

A review of the life, character, and theological views of this eminent champion of Free Will and Universal Redemption, who is not so well known as he deserves to be.

Charles Sangster, a Canadian Poet of the last generation.

A biographical and critical review of the Poet, with some specimens of his poetry.

The Tubingen School of Criticism.

An account of the rise and decline of the critical school of which Ferdinand Baur was the leader. This was one of the most suggestive movements in the history of modern Biblical study.

Questionable Tendencies in Current Theological Thought.

An examination of some new departures in religious teaching.

Confessions and Retractions of an Eminent Scientist.

An account of the extraordinary change in the views of Prof. George J. Romanes, the Darwinian philosopher, from Atheistic Agnosticism to faith in Christianity.

The last of the Great Prophets.

A lecture discussing briefly Hebrew Prophets and Prophecy, and treating more fully the times and teaching of the Prophet Malachi.

The Moral Teaching of the Old Testament Vindicated.

Theological Teaching in Public Schools.

What Should Ministers Preach?

Is the World Growing Worse?

Two or three other subjects may be added.

N.B.—I will be glad to hear from friends who receive this Prospectus, any word of encouragement they can give with regard to the probable sale of the volume.
